

Leveraging Open Source Intelligence for Safety & Security

Protect Your Organization with Actionable Intelligence

NC4 Signal™ is an open source intelligence (OSINT) analytics and notification solution designed to make the job done by corporate security professionals easier and more efficient. It allows your organization to gain real-time and historical insights into events that matter. Corporate security organizations are rapidly embracing the internet as a powerful tool for researching and preventing incidents. Having access to real-time information enables you to manage risk – for your community, your personnel and your shareholders.

However, the use of OSINT poses both an opportunity and a challenge for organizations. The ever-increasing volume of information can be staggering and therefore difficult to manage.

Turn Information into Intelligence

NC4 Signal is designed to filter through the endless flow of information across the web, and present you with a customized stream of rich, relevant data in real-time.

NC4 Signal provides corporate security with the ability to leverage OSINT in developing intelligent insight and provides a tremendous benefit as a global threat and risk mitigation tool across a broad set of industries.

Delivered through the Microsoft Azure cloud, it is available anywhere, anytime from any web-enabled device.

Filter, Understand, & Take Action

- Increase Efficiency of Your Operations Team:
Create quick searches to inform teams in real-time and perform detailed filtering with pro-active alerting to drive prevention
- Save Time & Receive Important Alerts:
Get accurate and real-time results from online data sources (including blogs/forums and the dark web) giving you a better view of what's really happening on the ground
- Peace of Mind:
Combine open source intelligence with NC4 Risk Center™ real-time alerts to receive a complete view of operational threats

The Power of Listening

The sharing of information and the posting of images and videos on the internet provides unparalleled insights into events as they unfold, allowing organizations to detect issues and react accordingly. Information can be filtered based on information needs, visualized in maps and lists, and then integrated into strategic, tactical and operational decision-making to ensure optimum results. Gather information from anywhere in the world:

- View a street address, city or state; a stadium or other landmarks
- Research topics, words and phrases
- Look into activity and developments as they unfold
- Identify current trends or research historical data

Situational awareness is about watching and listening. It means paying attention to what's around us: the ability to identify, process and comprehend the critical elements of the information at our disposal. Don't wait another day to take advantage of the wealth of information OSINT provides - get NC4 Signal today.

Pay Attention to the Conversations of the World

Right now more than 2 billion active social media users are posting. Posting about their lives, their plans and what's happening right now. When something happens it generates posts, pictures, videos and perspectives from countless people. All in real-time.

Some of that is vital information for your organization, situational awareness that could save you time, resources and lives. The problem is finding it amongst the rest of the noise.

NC4 Signal solves that problem
